Daniel Cameron most recently served as the CEO of 1792 Exchange where he advocated for the dismantling of DEI within corporate America and for businesses to return to producing great products and services, not pushing woke agendas.

Before 1792 Exchange, Daniel was the 51st Attorney General of the Commonwealth of Kentucky. He is the first black American elected to a standalone statewide office in Kentucky's history and the first Republican to hold the office of Attorney General since 1948. Daniel was also the Republican nominee for governor of Kentucky in 2023.

Daniel's actions and accomplishments as Attorney General align with President Trump's America First priorities. As Attorney General, Daniel stood as a bulwark against the Green New Deal. He spearheaded one of the nation's first comprehensive efforts to overturn Joe Biden's market-distorting EV mandate.

He sued the Biden administration for failing to secure the southern border. He has criticized big law firms for discriminatory DEI policies, successfully challenged COVID vaccine mandates, and protected children from life-altering gender transition surgeries.

The American people gave President Trump an historic mandate to drain the swamp. President Trump needs strong America First allies in the Senate, especially from Kentucky—a state President Trump won by a 30-point margin. President Trump has Daniel's back, and Daniel will continue to have his. As Senator, Daniel will fight to secure our southern border, destroy DEI, protect our children, restore common sense, and help President Trump unleash a Golden Age in American history.

Daniel and his wife, Makenze, are blessed with two sons, Theodore and Bennett. The Camerons are proud to call Kentucky home.

TOP ACCOMPLISHMENTS

✓ SECURING THE BORDER

Cameron fought to secure the border and protect our communities. He sued the prior administration for its unlawful use of immigration parole power and for its use of the CPB One App to streamline the process for illegal entry into the United States. Cameron supported designating the cartels as Foreign Terrorist Organizations.

✓ FIGHTING DEI

Cameron put DEI on deathwatch. He released an official Attorney General Opinion declaring that a taxpayer-funded, race-based program in Kentucky violated state and federal law. This effort made many of the same arguments that President Trump recently wielded to reinstitute merit-based hiring across the federal government.

✓ PROTECTING OUR KIDS

Cameron successfully challenged COVID vaccine mandates in federal court. His efforts helped end the former administration's mandate requiring masks at airports, train stations, and other transportation hubs.

Cameron protected Kentucky children from radical gender ideology. He defended a state law that protects kids from chemical and surgical mutilation and opposed attempts to redefine the meaning of sex to allow biological men to compete against women and girls in sports.

✓ SUPPORTING ISRAEL

Cameron supported Israel against the boycott, divestment, and sanctions (BDS) movement. He led a multistate effort to end the anti-Semitic data and ESG ratings produced by Sustainalytics, a wholly owned subsidiary of Morningstar, Inc. And in the aftermath of Hamas's brutal terrorist attack, he urged the federal government to provide Israel the support needed to fight evil in all its forms.

✓ PROMOTING ENERGY INDEPENDENCE

Cameron contested federal proposals to impose crippling costs on coal-fired power plants, sued to stop the cancellation of the Keystone Pipeline, and opposed the EPA's draconian proposals for gas-powered vehicles.

✓ LOWERING COST OF LIVING

Cameron secured a federal court victory that upheld reductions of Kentucky's individual income tax, guaranteeing that Kentuckians kept more of their hard-earned money.

✓ FIGHTING BIG PHARMA

Cameron proudly secured nearly $900 million from opioid companies that exacerbated the opioid crisis in Kentucky. No attorney general in Kentucky history secured such unprecedented victories for opioid prevention, treatment, and recovery.
