FAIR, IMPARTIAL & COMBAT-TESTED

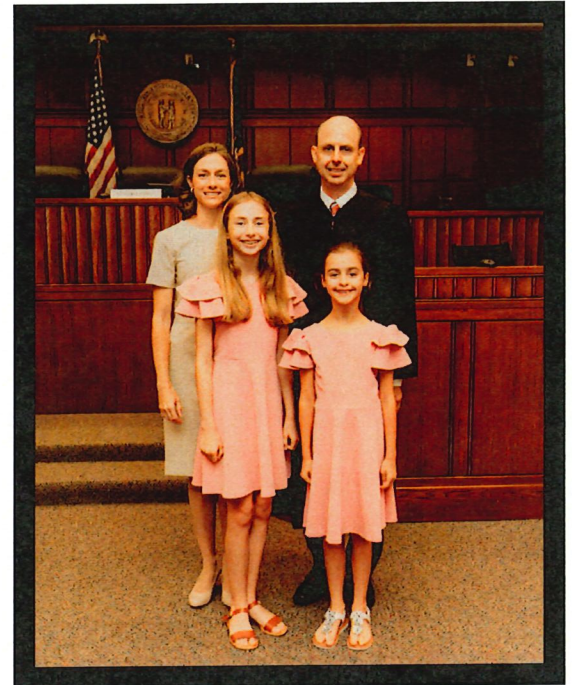

Judge Will Moynahan brings a lifetime of public service and legal experience to the Kentucky Court of Appeals. Since being appointed to the Court in April 2025 by Governor Andy Beshear, he has reviewed appeals from trial courts across the Commonwealth—approaching each case with fairness, impartiality, and the combat-trusted judgment he’s built over decades of service to country and community. He is currently running to retain his position in a nonpartisan election on November 3, 2026.
